Transfers for review

Transfers

The operator can perform the action from the transfer details:

Accept

Reject

or from the list of transfers, using the action:

- Accepting a held transfer means allowing the transfer to be finalised, so the transfer is rebooked from the technical balance for further reprocessing to the recipient.
- If the transfer is rejected, the AML operator from Issuing Institution defines further reprocessing of the transfer. Depending on the case, the transfer may return to the original sender or change the intended recipient.

The Transfers for review tab also offers filters and details similar to the Transfers tab.
